To what transaction? 4 including but not limited to any debt, obligation, 5 5 responsibility, or liability with respect to tax, A. I don't have the document in front of me, but I 6 6 employment, benefits, personal injury, or products, think the foreclosure sale agreement might denote the 7 7 liability claims, equipment leases, licensed agreements, value of the assets being foreclosed upon. 8 8 Q. Okay. So does it denote the value of the or contracts. 9 9 assets being foreclosed upon or the outstanding balance It goes on to state, in furtherance and not 10 10 in limitation of the foregoing, which seemed to cover that ACET Global owed to Super G Capital? 11 A. I don't have the agreement in front of me, but 11 everything to me, buyer does not assume any liability of 12 12 debtor or seller under the loan agreements that certain I believe both of those numbers are in that document? 13 Q. Okay. But would you agree that those two 13 secured promissory note dated July 20th, 2017, payable by debtor to ACET Venture Partners, LLC in the stated 14 things are not one and the same? 14 15 15 principal amount of $3,230,000 any equipment lease, any A. No -- yes, they are not the same numbers. One 16 is a -- the amount of debt, and one is the estimated 16 license agreement, or any other contract or obligation 17 firm work value of assets. 17 of debtor, its principals, officers, or directors, or 18 18 any other party or any other person. Q. Okay. Now, on this document, this Exhibit 10 19 19 that we were looking at --So what -- why did you put this provision 20 20 in? A. Yes. 21 A. Well, this is a pretty standard provision when Q. -- that you sent on December 19th, 2018, 21 22 correct? 22 you are -- well, let me back up. I'm not familiar with 23 23 foreclosure sale agreements, in particular, but this A. Uh-huh. Q. Okay. Second 2.3 of the foreclosure sale 24 2.4 type of provision would be pretty common in a transfer agreement that is attached, I'm going to ask you to take 25 of assets where you're assuming either none or some, you 25 Page 63 Page 65 1 a look at this with me. Let me ask you before, was your 1 know, or certain liabilities. 2 understanding that -- was your understanding that 2 Q. Okay. And how did this help further your goals 3 Windspeed was assuming the note from ACET Global? How 3 for ACET Global? 4 4 was it discharging this half a million dollars? MR. PERRIN: Objection, form. 5 5 A. Ultimately, yeah, it assumed the note. A. I don't know that it did or didn't. It was an 6 Q. So that was your understanding at this time was 6 agreement between Super G and Windspeed. 7 7 that Windspeed was going to be assuming the note, and so Q. Okay. And so how did this accomplish what you 8 8 ACET Global is going to be relieved of that liability? understood this transaction to do for ACET Global? 9 A. At some -- there was some discussion. I don't 9 MR. PERRIN: Objection, form. 10 know if it was at this time or some other time of a new 10 A. Well, I'm not -- I'm not sure I understand your 11 note to replace the ACET note or -- a discussion of 11 question. Can you repeat it? 12 whether or not they were going to assume the ACET note 12 Q. Yeah. Well, let me ask it this way: If 13 13 there's a specific provision you've inserted here, and or forgive the ACET note and issue a new note to Windspeed. 14 14 now you're drafting this for Hallett & Perrin, but you Q. Okay. But somehow Windspeed was kind of taking 15 15 don't have a client that's actually a party to this on the liability and that was relieving ACET? 16 16 transaction, and you've asserted a paragraph that 17 A Yes 17 specifically provides that Windspeed is not assuming any 18 Q. Okay. So Section 2.3 of this foreclosure sale 18 liability for any of the loans or for the secured 19 agreement that you sent, it states, no assumption of 19 promissory note to ACET Venture Partners, how is this 20 document leaving ACET Global, LLC better off? 2.0 obligations. Do you see that? 21 A. Yes. 21 A. Well, it looks like this is an earlier version 22 Q. Okay. And it says, notwithstanding anything to 22 of the document where they were going to do a new note

to Windspeed, but ultimately ended up having Windspeed

assume the existing ACET note.

Q. Did that, in fact, actually happen?
